Low-cost Holan Mark C has high-price features

Here's a body that combines all-steel toughness with the construction features you need for commercial work such as heating and air conditioning, plumbing, refrigeration service and general contracting. Plenty of room and compartmentation. Easy-to-open self-sealing doors with pull-type flush handles. Nylon door hinges on horizontal doors that require less lubrication. The Mark C body is of welded all-steel construction with side compartments, panels and floor made to withstand the abuse you give them.
